

Firebolt

RDK Firebolt SDK is a development environment for applications targeted to run on RDK. Firebolt SDK can be used by application developers to develop HTML5, Spark & Native applications for RDK. The SDK comes with an RDK image which can be loaded on the target platform on which applications can be developed and executed.

As we transition RNE to Firebolt, the name is used interchangeably in this article.

Prerequisites

Installation

Developing Applications

Terminal Access

Installing Sample Applications

Key App Features

Sample Applications

Using App Manager
